

The Dr. Robert and Brenda Good FACULTY DEVELOPMENT ACADEMY

Performance Assessment in Health Professions Education

This session provides a broad and practical overview of performance assessment strategies tailored to support faculty across disciplines. Participants will explore a range of approaches - including rubrics, concept mapping, project-based assessment, simulation-based learning, and classroom assessment tools - that promote deeper learning and align effectively with educational outcomes. Emphasis will be placed on designing assessments that not only measure performance but also foster learner development and critical thinking. Drawing from current best practices and the speaker's own work in this area, the session will offer actionable insights and examples to help educators create impactful and learner-centered assessment experiences.
