

IPTA Southwest District Meeting

May 14, 2019

10

Polls

24

Participants

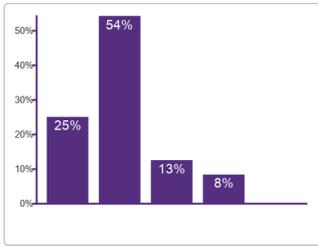

19

Average responses

Average engagement

The content of this activity was appropriate to my (future) practice.

Response options	Count	Percentage
Strongly Agree	6	25%
Agree	13	54%
Neutral	3	13%
Disagree	2	8%
Strongly Disagree	0	0%

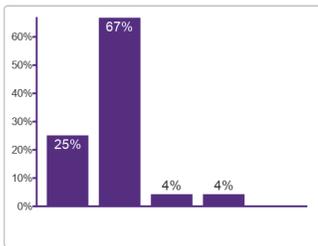

Engagement

24

Responses

This activity will make me more effective in my (future) practice.

Response options	Count	Percentage
Strongly Agree	6	25%
Agree	16	67%
Neutral	1	4%
Disagree	1	4%
Strongly Disagree	0	0%

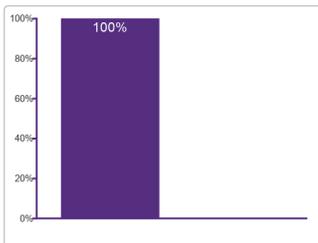

Engagement

24

Responses

Was this activity balanced and free of commercial bias?

Response options	Count	Percentage
Yes	24	100%
No	0	0%

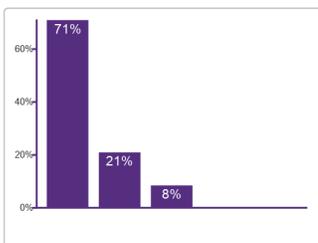

Engagement

24

Responses

How would you rate the facilities and overall administration of the activity?

Response options	Count	Percentage
Excellent	17	71%
Very Good	5	21%
Good	2	8%
Fair	0	0%
Poor	0	0%

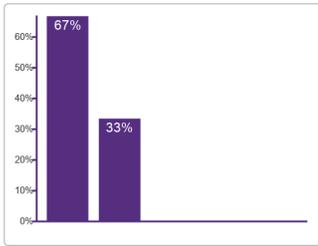

Engagement

24

Responses

Did the activity meet your expectations in accomplishing the stated objectives?

Response options	Count	Percentage
Completely	16	67%
Mostly	8	33%
Partially	0	0%
Minimally	0	0%
Not at All	0	0%

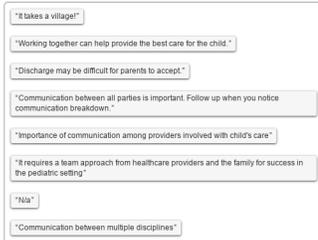

Engagement

24

Responses

Please describe any 'pearls' or takeaway messages.

Responses

Interdisciplinary communication is key

Family centered care requires a lot of collaboration. Also make sure to double check people's intentions as things can get passed through word of mouth incorrectly.

Multi discipline team approach is important in all healthcare situations especially in pediatrics, communication is key, and involving all parties to reach best possible outcomes.

Wrote down a resource site to help my families at work

Find out what is important to the child/family, be a team player, communicate carefully, and push for episodic care with long term disabilities to get the most out of therapy

Inter-professional communication between PT's in the outpatient setting and other health care providers is not easy but it is necessary for the care of our patients.

Going the extra mile to ensure communication between all involved parties is paramount

I appreciated the emphasis on professional and clear communication. That is applicable to all settings and practices.

It was just very interesting to hear about the outpatient discharge and the time and preparation it takes leading up to that point

Communication between multiple disciplines N/a

It requires a team approach from healthcare providers and the family for success in the pediatric setting

Importance of communication among providers involved with child's care

Communication between all parties is important. Follow up when you notice communication breakdown.

Discharge may be difficult for parents to accept.

Working together can help provide the best care for the child. It takes a village!

Engagement

17

Responses

Please note any changes or improvements in the care of your (future) patients that you plan to make as a result of attending this educational activity.

- "Make the presentation more interactive with the audience to keep people engaged"
- "More aware of other services being received."
- "More collaboration with other healthcare providers"
- "Improving the coordination of care"
- "Better communication on goals and frequent updates on progress to providers and family"
- "Being sure to aim for the patient's goals and to work together with other therapists."
- "Will focus on asking patients who else is on their "team" and involving them when appropriate."
- "Good tips on how to discuss discharge and changing the tone of the conversation to one of patient empowerment"

Responses

- Coordinate with social worker more Na
- Start speaking of discharge early with pediatric patients as this can be a sensitive topic.
- Maintainate communication with all providers involved in my patients care.
- The constant communication with even people of the same profession. It the outpatient setting just being prepared to know that there will be a loss of communication somewhere in the line with all the people involved.
- I will try to coordinate better with school therapists
- Good tips on how to discuss discharge and changing the tone of the conversation to one of patient empowerment
- Will focus on asking patients who else is on their "team" and involving them when appropriate.
- Being sure to aim for the patient's goals and to work together with other therapists.
- Better communication on goals and frequent updates on progress to providers and family
- Improving the coordination of care
- More collaboration with other healthcare providers
- More aware of other services being received.
- Make the presentation more interactive with the audience to keep people engaged

14 Responses

Do you have any unanswered questions or additional comments?

- "no"
- "No"
- "None"
- "No"
- "None"
- "No"
- "No"
- "No"
- "None"
- "No"
- "no"

Responses

- No No None No No No None No None No no

11 Responses

Please suggest topics or speakers for future IPTA meetings. If possible, please include contact information when suggesting a speaker.

- "N/A"
- "Pain science, vestibular issues, SCI"
- "Sports medicine, geriatrics"
- "None"
- "More peds topics"
- "Concussion law and return to play/learn protocols"
- "Sports medicine"
- "N/A"
- "N/A"

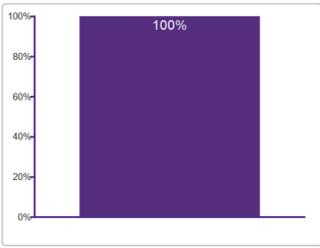

Responses

- Adaptive equipment specialist, Orthotics rep, wheelchair rep N/A N/a
- Sports medicine Concussion law and return to play/learn protocols
- More peds topics None Sports medicine, geriatrics
- Pain science, vestibular issues, SCI NA

10 Responses

Thank you for your feedback! Results may be sent to the continuing education board.

Response options

Ok

Count

21

Percentage

100%

Engagement

21

Responses